John Marrs ~ The Passengers

Started on 5/1/26. This was TikTok recommended best book.
I'm 22 chapters into the book. It took a while to get to the "meat" but now that I'm there I don't want to stop reading.

I'll let you know when I finish.

Finished on 5/10/26. 9 Days!!
The meat of the book was great. It ended to early though. The exciting part came to a head and there was still 30% of the book left.

Twists and turned for that last 30% though. The "why" became known and the "who" wrapped up.

The Hackers hijacked 8 autonomous cars and told the world that they would crash and burn in 2 hours. Some of them didn't make it the whole 2 hours. The ones that did, did they burn? Who are the hackers? Why are they causing chaos on the streets of England?
You'll have to read it to find out why.

Chapters were short (ish) and characters were well written. I knew who almost everyone was. Could picture them.
Giving this book an 8/10
